++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Sunshine in north, cloudier in south and east.

Today:
Generally dry, with some sunny spells especially across central and southern Scotland. Cloudier across far northwest and most eastern areas with some light rain or drizzle in southeast later.

Tonight:
Band of thicker cloud and occasional rain and drizzle in southeast edging westwards and weakening. Some clear spells in west with a risk of a touch of frost.

Friday:
Rather cloudy for most with patchy rain and drizzle in the east spreading westwards. Best sunshine across western Scotland and also southeast England later.

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Often cloudy, but some sunny spells. Feeling warm, especially in any sunshine, but the southeast colder with some overnight frost over the weekend. Mostly light winds.
